

Our goal is perfect events and satisfied customers.

In addition to renting event rooms and supporting customers in organizing external events (see here for reactions), the Kaiserin Friedrich-Stiftung also conducts its own training courses. The following feedback from course participants (determined, among other things, by evaluation questionnaires and direct interviews with participants) as well as reports in relevant trade journals reached us at recent events:

From the 19th reintegration course of EFF in 2016:

"For the statistics: since February 2018 I have been working as a training assistant for general medicine. I really enjoy it and the reintegration course was a huge help.

Kind regards". (participant A. Sommer)

From the 20th Reintegration course for doctors after a non-professional interval (9-20 January 2017):

"The course at the beginning of this year supports a well-founded and high-quality step back into the medical profession and has personally given me many impulses for further self-study in individual medical fields. In every respect, the work of the Kaiserin Friedrich-Stiftung for further medical training is of very specific, inestimable value". (Participant)

"Dear ladies and gentlemen of EFF, thank you very much for the great opportunity of further education in your house. In my opinion, the reintegration course is a complete success! I enjoy thinking back to the past two weeks so much". (Participant Katja Lieber)

From the 19th Reintegration courses for doctors after a non-professional interval (11-22 January 2016):

"I would like to thank you again personally for this great course, which gave me and certainly many others the opportunity to update myself on the latest developments in the most important areas of medicine. In addition to the assessment of my current position, it was also very important for me to recognize where I have major gaps and still have to work on them, as well as suggestions for finding and studying guidelines and literature". ### From the 14th Reintegration courses for doctors after a non-professional interval (17-28 January 2011):

"This has been the best advanced training I've attended in a long time. (...)I really liked the speakers. It was noticeable that they are doing their job with joy and passion.(...) The speakers respond well to the questions of the participants, without any arrogance. (...) It was a good mixture of professional and social competence. Some of the speakers also convey their presentations with a lot of humour. (...) I am now more confident about finding a job. I am technically so up to date again that I can help the patient in any case. Even if it doesn't concern my area of expertise, I have heard and learned so much that I can at least pass it on to the right colleague or know where I can read more in-depth information. (...) I would like to attend even more such courses." (Dr. Regina Weber, Berlin)

"The lectures are all up to date. (...) There is an extremely high density of information. (...) The course gives me a boost and the confidence to be up to date." (Christoph Schulze, Zossen)
